DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This building is located between the corner and end of the block. It is 3½ stories high and three bays wide and has a flat roof.

The brick exterior (laid in running bond) is accented by flat stone lintels and sills, belt courses, decorative recessed brick arches with full arched brick lintels and prominent stone keystones.

Two Roman arch features (acutally two rectangular windows with flat stone lintels set into a Roman arch) are placed on the second story of the house. The other significant architectural element of the house, the doorway is flanked by deocrative brick work on either side and also on either side of the first story windows. A wide marble stretcher course runs across the entire facade above the door and first story windows. A narrower stone course runs the width of the building underneath the first story windows. The door which is located on the left has a wooden frame, a marble stoop and cast iron handrail leading up the stpes.

The windows are double hounng with three-over-three lights. A brick cornice adorns the roofline. The building is taller and more decorative than the other row houses on the west side of the 900 block of N. Calvert Street.
